Questions and Answers:

1	Who is responsible for paying the $250.00? The DBPM always pays the fee to the reviewer and if decision is overturned the provider is responsible for reimbursing the DBPM.
2	Any penalty to the DBPM if they don't pay the reviewer? per section 5.2 of the MOU If the DBPM fails to pay any appropriate itemized invoice submitted by the Independent reviewer, the independent reviewer may request payment directly from the State from any funds held by the state that are payable to the DBPM. And if provider loses the dispute the provider will reimburse the DBPM the fee; if provider fails to pay the DBPM the funds will be withheld from future claims remittance and LDH may prohibit the provider from participation in future independent reviews.
3	Is there a timeframe to add claims payment disputes for similarly denied claims? Can disputes be aggregated? Yes, disputes can be aggregated. The reviewer makes the final determination as to whether claims are eligible for aggregation. No disputes will be considered prior to the effective date of law, which is 08/01/2018. Also, providers must first go through the appeal and reconsideration request with the DBPM. Once complete, the provider has 60 days from the date of adverse determination to request an independent review. Request must be received by LDH within 180 days from the date of the RA, or the date on which the DBPM recoups monies from a previously paid claim.
4	A recommendation was made to provide a flow chart of the process. The independent review process and flow chart is on the website. Here is a link, http://ldh.la.gov/index.cfm/page/3285 .
5	If x-rays or documentation is unclear and the reviewer needs clarification, what can be done for clarification? The reviewer must contact the provider and/or DBPM, by certified mail or secure email with return receipt or read receipt requested.
6	What happens if a case is settled before a decision is reached by the Independent Reviewer? A separate fee for disputes that are settled prior to the independent reviewers' determination is not in place. Currently, once a dispute is sent to a reviewer, the reviewer is compensated at 100% of the fee.
